Whatever we will advise you on what is possible and push the boundaries to create the precise solution that works for you .

Filler MasterBatch

Calcium Carbonate  $\text{CaCO}_3$  Filler Masterbatch is a concentrated, high-dispersion filling material in pellet form. It is added to Polyolefin polymers/plastic articles during thermoforming, compounding, or extrusion to boost performance and reduce costs.

- This material improve the surface finishing
- This material decreasing the shrinkage through improving the dimensional stability
- This material improving the cooling time of the material according to the mineral composition properties .
- This material improving the machine output It is excellent solution for cost reduction Material may affect the mechanical properties based on addition ratio .

FUNCTIONAL ADDITIVE MB

Additive Masterbatch enhances plastic product performance by protecting against light and heat degradation, improving optical properties, enhancing appearance, meeting flammability regulations, and improving processing ability. Our Functional Additive Masterbatch Range includes:
